All I see in my e-mail are meeting requests that included a message in the body of the request:

The screenshot shows an email search interface. At the top, the search term "richard spencer" is entered. Below it, the results are sorted by "Subject" and "A on top". There are four search results, all from "McIntire, David W." with the subject "CEOC Planning for Richard Spencer". The date for all results is "Tue 10/3". The name "Richard Spencer" is highlighted in yellow in the subject lines. At the bottom of the search results, there is a small text prompt: "Did you find what you were searching for?"

Both you and David were sent invites.

Subject: Public Records Request: Gainesville Department of Risk Management emails about Richard Spencer, September 20-present

To Whom It May Concern:

Pursuant to Florida's Sunshine Law (Fla. Stat. secs. 119.01 to 119.15 (1995)), I hereby request the following records:

Any email sent or received by any employee of the Gainesville Department of Risk Management between September 20, 2017 and the date on which this request is processed that contains the name 'Richard Spencer'.

The requested documents will be made available to the general public, and this request is not being made for commercial purposes.

In the event that there are fees, I would be grateful if you would inform me of the total charges in advance of fulfilling my request. I would prefer the request filled electronically, by e-mail attachment if available or CD-ROM if not.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation in this matter. I would request your response within ten (10) business days.

If you are not the proper recipient of this request, please forward it to the appropriate designee.

Sincerely,

Christopher Schiano
