The Omaha Division CDC has reviewed this communication and the basis for the extension of this TEI Preliminary Investigation. CDC Omaha finds the continued predication for this TEI continues to exist. As detailed above the basis for this TEI Preliminary Investigation is not based solely on activities protected by the First Amendment nor based solely upon the lawful exercise of any other rights secured by the Constitution. Additionally, the Omaha Division's TEI PI on the WRR will not focus on the constitutionally protected activities of the group nor its members.

National Convention (DNC) and the Republican National Convention (RNC).

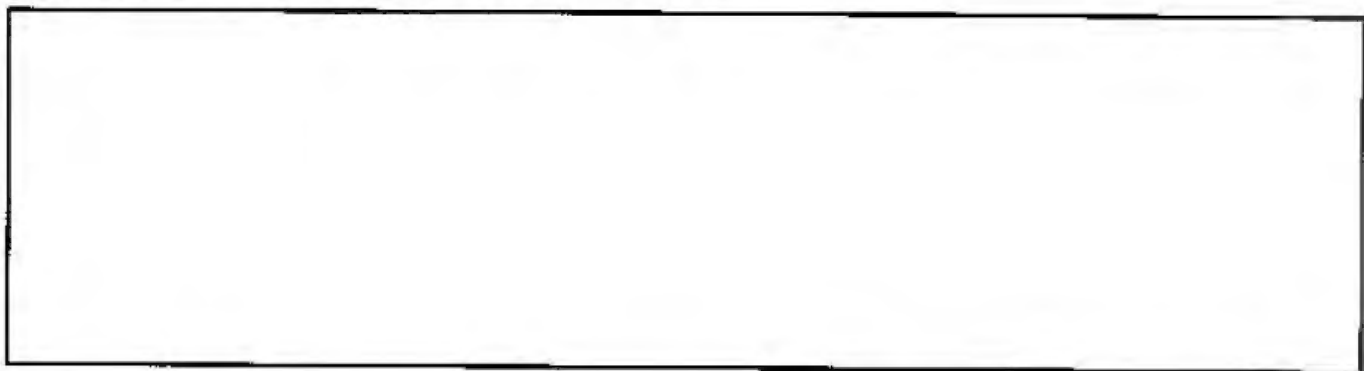

Background:

Early in January 2008, a two-day long anarchist-oriented convention called "The Caucus of the Future" was held in Des Moines, Iowa. Information regarding this convention was posted on the web site <http://www.caucusofthefuture.com>.

Development of the WILD ROSE REBELLION:

Since the "Caucus of the Future" event, several participants of the initial "RNC Consulta" workshop began meeting in Iowa City, Iowa and adopted their own group name the, "WILD ROSE REBELLION - A Resistance Between Two Rivers" (WRR).

Details: By way of background concerning captioned matter: the

the FBI developed information and background on the following groups who appeared to be interconnected in various ways: Republican National Convention Welcoming Committee (RNCWC), Unconventional Action (UA) and the Wild Rose Rebellion (WRR). These groups appeared to be anarchist based groups meeting, planning and organizing with other anarchist type groups to potentially commit criminal acts in an effort to disrupt the Republican National Convention (RNC) in Minneapolis / St. Paul, Minnesota set for 09/01/2008-09/04/2008.

"Caucus of the Future":

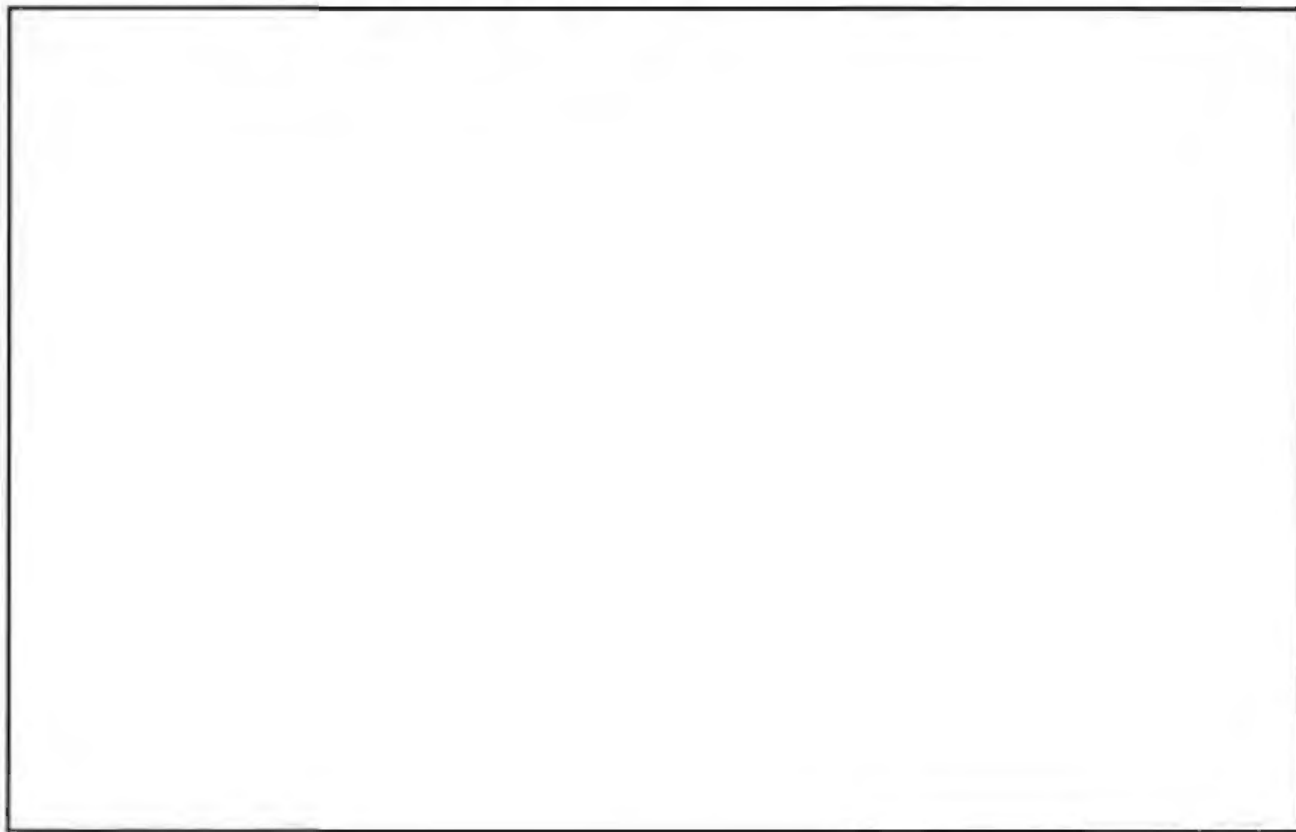

Early in January 2008, a two-day long anarchist-oriented convention called "Caucus of the Future" (COF) was held in Des Moines, Iowa. [redacted] extremist element. Overall, several hundred arrests were made at the RNC for various local/state crimes.

Although no specific criminal activities were identified as being attributable to [redacted] or the WRR at the RNC or otherwise, an association with other anarchist extremist networks was identified. However; since no specific criminal activity involving force or violence in violation of the criminal laws of the United States in support of furthering their political/social goals has been identified no further investigation is warranted into this matter at this time.

The initiation and further investigation conducted under this PI did not focus solely on the constitutionally protected activities of captioned subjects no the WRR group as a whole.

Based upon the foregoing, it is recommended captioned PI and any related subfiles be closed at this time and [redacted] VGTOF. No evidence has been retained in captioned matter and no leads remain outstanding.

AUSA [redacted] of the Southern District of Iowa whose office opened a file to assist with this matter was telephonically contacted on 12/16/2008 and agreed with the closing of captioned matter.
